Verse 1

Imagine talking face to face
Or writing pages to a letter box
We could buy lollies with 5 cents
And wonder what the internet is
Two different worlds we're living in
Just try be happy in your own skin

Verse 2

It's impossible to hide
When your every move's on display
I just wanted to fit in
And everyone is feeling the same
Two different worlds we're living in
Just try be happy in your own skin

Chorus

Might not see eye to eye but
We still share the same blue sky
I've been your age before and
I've had the same falls
But when stars don't align
Remember we share the same blue sky
